

1-30-1992

The Montclarion, January 30, 1992

The Montclarion

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.montclair.edu/montclarion>

Recommended Citation

The Montclarion, "The Montclarion, January 30, 1992" (1992). The Montclarion. 634.
<https://digitalcommons.montclair.edu/montclarion/634>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Newspapers at Montclair State University Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Montclarion by an authorized administrator of Montclair State University Digital Commons. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@montclair.edu.

The Montclarion

Vol. 71 No. 1

Upper Montclair, New Jersey 07043

Thursday, January 30, 1992

Obituary:

Spanish-Italian Dept. secretary dies

by Nancy Gannon

Marie Rose, 67, a secretary in the foreign language Dept. at MSC, died last Monday, Jan. 20, in Mountainside Hospital.

According to Diomie Johnson, a close friend and co-worker, Rose suffered a stroke on Jan. 5 in her Bloomfield home and was taken to Mountainside Hospital where she remained in a coma until her death.

Rose had been the secretary for the Spanish-Italian Dept. since 1986. Prior to that, she was employed by the Maintenance Dept. of MSC for two years.

The Foreign Language Office, located on the fourth floor of Partridge Hall, is where Rose worked with Johnson and fellow administrators. The staff expressed their sorrow about the loss of Rose.

"She was a very close friend, we spent more time together than with our families," said Johnson. "She was a lively, energetic and warm person with a wonderful sense of humor.

Phyllis Brighton, a secretary in the English Dept., described Rose as "a very smart and lively person. She was a wonderful friend and we'll miss her."

Dr. Victoria Larson, a professor in the classic Dept., said, "She was a dynamic kind of person. She was always very cheerful and kind."

Diana Guemarez, a professor in the Spanish Dept., said, "I met her a year and a half ago. She's been very nice and helpful to me."

Funeral Services were held last Wednesday morning at St. Francis Xavier Church in Bloomfield. Many of the faculty and staff of Partridge Hall attended.

Rose is survived by husband Carmine and daughter Lisa.

Two residents arrested for possession of marijuana

by Suzanne E. Potts

Two residents of Bohn Hall were arrested for possession of a controlled dangerous substance on Wednesday, Jan. 22, at about midnight, according to Campus Police.

The Assistant Manager on duty, Stacey Ballou, noticed a strong odor of marijuana coming from the resident's room and reported it.

Campus Police officers responded and knocked on the door. The residents, John Fischer and Jeffrey Springsteen, ages 19 and 20, opened the door and appeared to be under the influence, according to Campus Police.

Sgt. Paul Cell, the arresting officer, then asked the residents if they would give consent to a search of their room and they agreed.

Marijuana and rolling papers were found and the students were charged with possession of 50 grams of a controlled substance.

The residents could not be reached for comment.

Sherill Cantrell, director of Bohn Hall, said that the residents were very agreeable. "They practically handed over the marijuana," she said.

Dean of Students Edward Martin said, "I was called the night it happened and made a decision that night for the two students to be suspended for one year with the right to appeal. The appeal would simply involve writing a letter to the vice president."

He continued to say that all these instructions were written down and given to the students.

"I am very sorry that it occurred, but they violated the law, they have been arrested and they have jeopardized their enrollment as well as their financial aid," Martin said.

Access road open

The new access road was opened this month so students may get to the student parking lots straight from Valley Road.

Beverly Masterson

Campus Life:

Cheating and how to do it on page 13

African-American Heritage month on page 13

Editorial:

Students' rights on page 14

Welfare reform on page 15

Arts:

JFK review on page 19

Metal jewelry on page 17

News Briefs

Safety enhancement

MSC is set to begin two projects at an estimated cost of $1.1 million to enhance comfort and safety levels on campus. A new energy management system including isolated computers that will be wired to energy-using equipment in certain buildings and a fire alarm system that sends alarm signals over phone wires to a new supervisory panel in the police building.

"Although the functions performed will be similar to those already provided, this project will enhance the reliability of the overall system," Quinn said.

Student Center Hours of Operation

Student Center Cafeteria:

7:15 a.m.-7 p.m. Monday-Thursday
7:15 a.m.-4 p.m. Friday

Student Center Dining Room:

11 a.m.-2 p.m. Monday-Friday

College Hall Coffee Shop:

7:30 a.m.-8 p.m. Monday-Thursday
7:30 a.m.-2 p.m. Friday

Pete's Arena (Rathskellar):

11 a.m.-10 p.m. Monday-Thursday
11 a.m.-2 p.m. Friday
8 a.m.-2 p.m. Saturday

C-Store:

8:30 a.m.-8 p.m. Monday-Thursday
8:30 a.m.-4 p.m. Friday

Gameroom:

9:30 a.m.-10 p.m. Monday-Friday
10 a.m.-3 p.m. Saturday
5 p.m.-9:30 p.m. Sunday

Flea Market:

8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday

The College Store:

8:30 a.m.-8 p.m. Monday-Thursday
8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Friday

Campus speaker

Bishop Joseph Francis, a man who walked with Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in Montgomery, Alabama will be coming to our campus today to speak on the life and times of King during MSC's second annual Martin Luther King, Jr. Convocation sponsored by the Campus Ministry Council. Francis is currently the chairman of the Peace and Justice Commission of the Archdiocese of Newark. The convocation will begin at 12:10 p.m. in the Student Center Ballroom A.

World News

The week in review

Compiled by T.S. Lawton from The New York Times, The Herald-News, The Bergen Record, and CNN.

International

South African Police arrested 10 white extremist leaders. The extremists were picked up in raids meant to gather right wingers who are threatening violence as a reaction to Pretoria's moves to share power with blacks at the national level.

U.N. Inspectors were assaulted by a crowd of Iraqi men in Baghdad as police stood by and watched the attack. The inspectors are in Iraq to search for hidden biological, chemical, and nuclear weapons.

Israelis and Arabs met in Moscow in unprecedented meetings. Arabs are still demanding Israel surrender the occupied territories. The meeting itself was an accomplishment, although more meetings were discussed to cover the problems regarding the representation of the Palestinians. The incident was the end of a 9000 mile cross country tour organized by the Indian people's party which feels India should end sectarian violence and embrace the Hindu culture, 80% of India's nearly one billion people.

The Australian Olympic team's doctors said he could not, in good conscience, suggest to his basketball team that it would be safe to play with Magic Johnson. He said it would be possible for players to contract the HIV virus from Johnson through what he called "a small yet realistic threat."

National

President George Bush proposed tax cuts to revive the economy in his State of the Union Address. Bush said it would pump $25 billion into the economy and about 300 more a year for 90 million wage earners. Bush failed to mention his failed promises of being the education and environmental President. Money for education has been cut during his tenure and not one of his promised 4 billion trees has been planted. On top of that, he has pushed for off shore oil development near environmentally fragile areas and the opening of the Alaskan frontier for oil development.

As usual, our nation has found a sidetrack to issues in an election year. Rather than discuss our nation's woeful economic conditions, the main issue in the primary campaign has been the alleged infidelity of Bill Clinton, a Democratic contender for the presidency.

Honeywell Inc. is seeking a $150 million in damages from the Minolta Camera Company. Honeywell maintains Minolta has stolen technology it has developed for use in its Maxxum Cameras. A jury will decide the federal case.

Four teenagers were charged with killing a man and his mother after they boasted of the killings and showed a severed finger as proof of their deeds. Several people called police after the incident and investigators are exploring the particulars of the crime.

Regional

Governor Jim Florio said his proposed 15.7 billion dollar budget for New Jersey reaffirms his commitment to reducing property taxes, improving education, and creating jobs to reduce the pain of the recession.

Newark became one of 13 cities nationwide to win a five year, $3 million foundation grant to run an innovative community based program aimed at reducing demands for drugs and alcohol. The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation donation will be used in its first stage to help rejuvenate communities through activity and open a drug and alcohol rehabilitation program for women.

Instead of driving on the highway's of New Jersey, a speed monitoring report was conducted in our state to reveal that most people ignore the 55 mph speed limit. According to the report, only 10% of our states drivers exceed 65 mph at one time, and only 33% go over 60 mph.

N.J. Transit posted their best ontime performance for trains in December 1991, over 95%. Transit officials hope this statistic will convince legislators to let go of any ideas of increased fares. The Atlantic City line posted the best mark, with a 97.2% ontime rate.

WEATHER

By T.S. Lawton

Thu.

Mostly Sunny

High: 49
Low: 25

Fri.

Increasing Clouds, Chance of rain or snow

High: 38
Low: 28

Sat.

Chance of snow, especially early

High: 38
Low: 18

Sun.

Mostly sunny, windy

High: 26
Low: 15

Mon.

Mostly sunny

High: 35
Low: 16

CORRECTIONS

It is the policy of The Montclarion to correct all errors.

If you spot an error please call us at 893-5169

Construction continues on campus

Construction crews work on Sprague Library expansion

Beverly Masterson

THE HUMAN RELATIONS ORGANIZATION,

a Class One of the SGA focusing on improving students' effectiveness in the areas of Communication

Group Building

Leadership

Personal Awareness

NOTE TIME CHANGE

Cordially invites you to

THE INTRODUCTORY WORKSHOP

Thurs., Jan., 30th - 8PM Rm 417
Student Center

to become better acquainted with this valuable campus resource

ADMISSION $FREE

HRO is a Class I of the SGA and located in Room 403 of the Student Center (893-7348)

Work on

The Montclarion

Many positions available, paid and unpaid
Gain journalistic experience; build an impressive resume
You don't HAVE to be an ENGLISH MAJOR...

BUSINESS MAJORS and the like!
Great money if you work in our advertising department. Check it out!

Also! Paid positions for students with any of the following:

- *Computer know-how
- *Telephone know-how
- *Secretarial skills
- *Typing skills

PHOTOGRAPHY MAJORS!

Gain more experience; use our darkroom while working with us.

SPORTS, FILM, THEATRE, and much, much more -- find out what it's all about!

Call us at 893-5169 or stop by room 113 in the Student Center Annex
(ask for Bob Wintermute or John Tibbetts)

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS:
Wednesday, February 5, 1992

ALL are welcome. Be it the free pizza, the pleasure of watching the sun rise, the mind-boggling experience of getting into the groove of the oh-so-exciting Montclair State experience, or mere greed for meaning: The Montclarion offers more than you would expect, for all races, sexes and ages...

"Dare to impose, expose, or just plain pose..."

Spanish article:

LASO y WCSA preperan viaje al Republica Dominicana

por Jorge L. Cruz

La Organización de Estudiantes Latinoamericanos (LASO), clase I de la Asociación del Gobierno Estudiantil (SGA) y la Asociación Estudiantil del Colegio de Fin de Semana (WCSA), clase II del S.G.A. han organizado un viaje a la Republica Dominicana para las vacaciones de primavera.

Esta es una buena noticia para la comunidad hispana de MSC, ya que esta es la primera vez desde hace varios años que estas dos organizaciones comparten un evento de esta magnitud.

La comunidad hispana ha venido en aumento dentro del plantel, y es de bastante importancia que todas las organizaciones hispanas del colegio trabejen en conjunto para así ayudar a los estudiantes y a la vez crear una interacción con otras organizaciones del colegio. De tal manera, ambas comunidades podrían entenderse mejor.

Dicho evento se puede tomar como un ejemplo para otras organizaciones que deseen unir sus esfuerzos para crear una mejor comunicación entre la comunidad hispana y todos los estudiantes en general.

La República Dominicana es una hermosa isla localizada en el mar Caribe, y este viaje tiene como objetivo primordial conmemorar el quinto centenario de la llegada de Cristóbal Colón, la cual creó el primer encuentro entre dos mundos.

Esta es una gran oportunidad para los estudiantes de conocer más acerca de la cultura, tradiciones e historia de la isla, y al mismo tiempo vivir una experiencia inolvidable.

El costo del viaje es de 699 dólares, el cual incluye: pasaje aéreo (dos vías), 6 días y 5 noches en un hotel de cinco estrellas en Santo Domingo y Puerto Plata (Sand Castles), brindis de bienvenida, dos comidas diarias, entrada gratis a exclusivos centros nocturnos y los visitantes disfrutarán también de la práctica de deportes acuáticos.

El viaje se llevará a cabo del 16 al 21 de marzo y requiere de un depósito de 50 dólares a más tardar el 8 de febrero. Las personas interesadas pueden llamar a los siguientes teléfonos: (201) 861-2177, 893-7230 y 893-4440.

CAMPUS POLICE REPORT

compiled by Karl Lomberg

Harassment:

Jan. 28 A female resident of Blanton Hall complained that she was being harassed by four other females. Apparently this is an ongoing problem dating back to Spring of 1990.

Criminal Mischief:

Jan. 24 1986 Dodge Aries was found with a broken mirror.

Theft:

Jan. 27 2:00 p.m. - 4:00 p.m. A leather waistpack was stolen from Panzer Gymnasium. Stolen items included jewelry, $110 cash, pager, class ring.

Jan. 28 6:00 p.m. - 6:30 p.m. Backpack was reported stolen from Blanton Cafeteria by a Bohn Hall resident.

Trespass:

Jan. 27 7:00 p.m. - 10:00 p.m. A male entered Webster Hall saying he was cold, he snuck upstairs and harassed some residents then left.

Resolutions:

Jan. 7 Residents from Webster dropped charges against residents in Blanton for harassment.

Jan. 15 A William Paterson student and an MSC student both dropped assault charges that they filed against each other.

Jan. 28 A Blanton resident was set to appear before a Little Falls court and failed to appear.

English translation:

LASO and WCSA prepare trip to Dominican Republic

by Jorge L. Cruz

The Latin American Student Organization (LASO) a class I organization of the Student Government Association (SGA) along with the Weekend College Student Association (WCSA) a class II organization of the SGA have organized a trip to the Dominican Republic for the Spring Break.

These are good news for the Hispanic community has been increasing on campus it is really important that all Hispanic organizations work together to help the Hispanic students to create an interaction between them and the other organizations on campus. Thus, both communities can understand each other better.

This event could be an example for other organizations that may want to join their efforts to create better communication between the Hispanic organizations and the students in general.

The Dominican Republic is a beautiful island located in the Caribbean Sea and the trip will help to celebrate the quincentennial of the arrival of Christopher Columbus causing the first encounter between two worlds.

This is a good opportunity for the students to know more about the culture, traditions and history of the island and have an unforgettable experience.

The cost of the trip is $699 and the package includes the round trip airfare and transfers, six days and five nights in a five star hotel in Santo Domingo and Puerto Plata, a welcome drink, two meals a day, exclusive free admission to area night clubs and free water sports.

The trip is planned to be from March 16 to March 21 and it requires a $50 deposit due on February 8. For further information contact the following numbers: (201) 861-2177, 893-7230 and 4440.

The Montclarion is looking for a Research Assistant who has Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons mostly free. Salary starts at $6.00 an hour. Journalism experience preferred.
Please apply at The Montclarion office room 113 in the Student Center Annex

ONE DOLLAR

Permanent Part-time Package Handlers

Our tuition reimbursement package is one of the most important packages UPS delivers.

United Parcel Service knows how difficult it is these days to get through school, academically and financially. While we can't help you get better grades, we can help you by offering one of the most generous tuition reimbursement packages around.

By working 3-5 hours a day, 5 days a week on selected shifts, you can be eligible for educational loans of up to $25,000 a year and tuition reimbursement of up to $2,000 a semester. You'll also start at $8 an hour, be able to pick a schedule that works around your classes, get paid holidays and vacations, receive company benefits and be eligible for promotions.

UPS also knows that free time is important. As a part-time package handler, you'll get weekends off! That's plenty of time to study or recharge.

No wonder we say UPS delivers more than a great job...UPS Delivers Education.

To learn more about this great opportunity, please visit the Student Center on Wednesday, February 5th from 11am to 3pm. Or, apply in person during our regular interview hours at one of the locations listed below.

UPS Secaucus
493 County Ave.
Mon.-Thurs., 9am-11am & 4pm-8pm
Friday, 9am-11am & 6pm-8pm

UPS Saddle Brook
280 Midland Ave.
Tues. & Thurs., 2pm-4pm

Equal Opportunity Employer

FREE GUIDE TO SPRING BREAK '92

You're Invited to the 30th Anniversary
Party at the World's #1
Spring Break
Destination, on the Hottest beach on earth,
Feb. 22 - April 19, 1992!

Call 1-800-854-1234
for your FREE
30th Anniversary
Official Spring
Break 1992 Guide!

DESTINATION DAYTONA!
Convention & Visitor's Bureau
P. O. Box 910
Daytona Beach, FL 32115

GAIN NEW INSIGHT INTO THE DEVELOPMENT OF CONTEMPORARY THOUGHT

EXPLORE THE OFTEN CONFLICTING IDEAS OF SCIENCE & SOCIETY

MODERN EUROPEAN INTELLECTUAL HISTORY, M.A.
NINETEENTH CENTURY STUDIES, PH.D.

Ideal for generalists, these interdisciplinary programs drawing from history, philosophy, religion, art and science allow students to form their own theories of the world order.

Excellent library facilities, campus housing and a nationally respected faculty. All students are issued personal computers and printers.

For more information, write or call Graduate Admissions,
Drew University, Madison, NJ 07940-4000, 201/408-3110

DREW

Study Smart with Cliffs StudyWare®

To do your best on your Graduate Management Admission Test, study smart with Cliffs StudyWare®. This Cliffs Test Preparation Guide with interactive computer software is the most complete study system available.

- ◆ Available for Enhanced ACT, SAT, GMAT, GRE and LSAT
- ◆ On-screen questions ◆ Mouse compatible/pull-down menus
 - ◆ Fun and easy to use ◆ Color graphics
- ◆ Compatible with VGA, EGA, CGA and Hercules

CLIFFS StudyWare®

Available at College Store

Campus Calendar

LECTURES / SEMINARS / WORKSHOPS

- 1-30 THURSDAY -Martin Luther King, Jr. Convocation. Guest speaker: Bishop Joseph A. Francis, chairman of the Peace and Justice Commission of the Archdiocese of Newark. Free. 12:10 p.m. Student Center Ballroom A. Sponsored by the Campus Ministry Council. Call 746-2323.
- 2-1 SATURDAY -HRO's "Introductory Workshop." Free. 7 p.m. Student Center 419.
- 2-3 MONDAY -CLEP Review Workshop: English. Three-hour review session to prepare for College Level Examination Program. Open to new and prospective Second Careers and part-time students. Fee: $4 per session. 10 a.m.-1 p.m. College Hall 121.
- 2-4 TUESDAY -Seminar: "Financial aid for lawschool" with Jack Cox, financial aid and admissions counselor for University of Dayton School of Law. Free. 5:30 p.m. Russ Hall, Kops Lounge.
- 2-4 TUESDAY -Seminar: "Get the internship or part-time job that's right for you." Free. 11 a.m.-Noon. Student Center Annex 106.
- 2-5 WEDNESDAY -Seminar: Resume writing. Free. 2-3:30 p.m. Student Center 417.
- 2-5 WEDNESDAY -Seminar: "Choosing a major." Free. 11 a.m.-Noon. Student Center Annex 106.
- 2-5 WEDNESDAY -Meeting: Student Paralegal Association. Free. 5 p.m. Student Center 418.

F I L M / T H E A T E R

- 2-4 TUESDAY -Theatreworks USA presents "Rapunzel." Contact (212) 420-8202 for tickets. 10:30 a.m. Memorial Auditorium.
- 2-4 TUESDAY -Film: The Five Heartbeats. Free. 7 p.m. Student Center Ballrooms. Sponsored by the Organization of Students for African Unity, African-American Studies and the African-American Heritage Program.
- 2-6 THURSDAY -"Motion Pictures: Dances at an Exhibition." Tickets: $2. 8 p.m. through 2-8. Studio Theatre.

M U S I C

- 1-31 FRIDAY -Guest Recital: Olegna Fuschi, piano. Free. Noon. McEachern Recital Hall.

E V E N T S

- 2-2 SUNDAY -Candlemas Day: Blessing of candles and throats at mass. 11 a.m. Kops Lounge, Russ Hall. 7 p.m. Newman Center.
- 2-3 MONDAY -Feast of St. Blaise. Blessing of throats. Noon to 1 p.m. Student Center 411.
- 2-3 MONDAY -Flag Raising Ceremony and Proclamation: African-American Heritage Month. Noon. College Hall circle. Speakers Leslie Wilson of the history department on "Origins of African-American Heritage Month" and track and field coach John Blanton on "The New School: What is On Your Mind?" Ceremony followed by African food tasting in Student Center Ballrooms.
- 2-5 WEDNESDAY -College Art Gallery reception for Joe Overstreet. Free. 4-6 p.m. Life Hall. Overstreet's "The Storyville Series: Scenes from the Red-Light District of New Orleans" is on through 2-26. 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday-Friday.

W E E K L Y

- WEDNESDAY: -Montclarion general membership meeting. 6 p.m. Student Center 113.
- SUNDAY: -Mass. 11 a.m. Russ Hall, Kops Lounge.
- SUNDAY: -Mass. 7 p.m. Newman Center, Dioguardi Room.

Events are subject to change without notice.

Calendar events are due in The Montclarion by 4 p.m. Tuesday.

The College Consortium for International Studies is composed of 170 American Colleges and Universities. About 1400 students participated in CCIS programs in 1989-1990.

STUDY IN IRELAND

Fall 1992

St. Patrick's College
Maynooth, Ireland

- Liberal Arts Program
- 30 Student Maximum
- 3.0 G.P.A. Required

University of Limerick
Limerick, Ireland

- Business Program Option
- International Student Village
- 3.0 G.P.A. Required

SPONSORING COLLEGES
St. Bonaventure University
Mohegan Community College

Dr. Benjamin Haddis
Montclair State College
International Studies - Russ Hall
Upper Montclair, NJ 07043
(201)893-7374

Other CCIS Programs: Italy, England, Scotland, Sweden, Germany, Portugal, Greece, Israel, Spain, France, Mexico, Ecuador, Colombia, China, Switzerland.

ATTENTION STUDENTS:

All book returns for spring semester must be made by Saturday, February 1, 1992.

Thank you.

The College Store

Skaters World Roller Rink
Ramapo Shopping Plaza
Hamburg Turnpike • Wayne
694-9441

REDEEM
THIS AD
FOR DISCOUNT PASS

Tuesday and Thursday Night is Montclair State

COLLEGE NIGHT

9pm – 12am

Admission: $5.50

w/College ID: 4.50

Skate Rental: 1.50

Music by Robert Jackson from The Roxy – NYC

– Clubs – Organizations – Fraternities –

Book your group of 10 or more in advance for $3 per person

Reserve the rink for your next fund raiser!

Welcome!!!

The Montclarion would like to welcome its new and returning editors and staff.

Once again, congratulations to...

Arts Editor- George Calle
 Assistant Arts Editor - Jodi Schultz
 Assistant News Editor - Beth Courtney
 Campus Life Co-Editor- Karen Lee Stradford
 Editorial Page Editor- Kevin Colligan
 Photo Editor- Beverly Masterson
 Business Manager- Bob Wintermute

The Montclarion is a Class One Organization of the SGA

Think you can hook some readers?

The Montclarion is looking for editorial columnists.
 Call Kevin at 893-5169.

It can't do laundry or find you a date, but it can help you find more time for both.

The new Apple® Macintosh® Classic® II computer makes it easier for you to juggle classes, activities, projects, and term papers—and still find time for what makes college life real life.

It's a complete and affordable Macintosh Classic system that's ready to help you get your work finished fast. It's a snap to set up and use. It has a powerful 68030 micro-processor, which means you can run even the most sophisticated applications with ease. And its internal Apple SuperDrive™ disk drive reads from and writes to Macintosh and MS-DOS formatted disks—allowing you to exchange information easily with almost any other kind of computer.

In addition to its built-in capabilities, the Macintosh Classic II can be equipped with up to 10 megabytes of RAM, so you'll be able to run several applications at once and work with large amounts of data.

If you already own a Macintosh Classic, and want the speed and flexibility of a Macintosh Classic II, ask us about an upgrade—it can be installed in just minutes and it's affordable.

To put more time on your side, consider putting a Macintosh Classic II on your desk. See us for a demonstration today, and while you're in, be sure to ask us for details about the Apple Computer Loan. It'll be time well spent.

Introducing the Macintosh Classic II.

For further information visit
The College Store
Lower Level – Student Center Building

© 1991 Apple Computer, Inc. Apple, the Apple logo, and Macintosh are registered trademarks and SuperDrive is a trademark of Apple Computer, Inc. MS-DOS is a registered trademark of Microsoft Corporation. Classic is a registered trademark used under license by Apple Computer, Inc. This ad was created using Macintosh computers.

England, Spain, Australia, Ireland, Greece, Italy, Denmark, Mexico, Portugal, Germany, France, Scotland, Argentina and many other countries!

Study in English or learn a foreign language. Enroll for a semester or an academic year, at very affordable tuition or with financial aid!

Interested? Come to Russ Hall, Rm 124,
Tuesday, February 4th, 12:00 pm
Wednesday, February 5th, 4:00 pm
Thursday, February 6th, 9:00 am

or contact Dr. Benjamin F. Hadis, Director of International Studies, (201) 893-7374

CAMPUS LIFE

peculiar people and wiggling wonders Coming to you bi-weekly
By Appetite Cotter

Follow, follow, follow, follow... The highway of hell

So Pat had this Jeep Wagoneer with big wheels and four-wheel drive. Living in affluent Montclair in the summer with no dinero, you find yourself looking for any sort of trouble for amusement. We were lucky; our amusement came in the form of the state's biggest man-made mudslide - The Honorable Jim Florio Access Road. Back in August, it was this ridiculous slime pit, a foot deep in gook, cut recklessly out of the back of the quarry. But, as anyone with enough illegal substances in their bodies knows, two restless guys with a Jeep Wagoneer are mystically drawn to man-made mudslides (perhaps a regression to our elementary school days, only our Tonka toys never needed a tune-up.) Regardless, boots on feet, cigarettes in hand, we sped and slid wildly down the deliciously, deadly damp dirt, laughing hysterically.

Whoosh—Wroom—Vroom! Splat!!

We made more tracks on that unfinished road than any bulldozer could've hoped to tackle. It was ridiculous, this huge swath in the mountain, carved by some drunken meteor of doom. Back behind the huge earth movers and dump trucks (which we tried to hot wire, to no avail) there were these enormous piles of woodchips - the obvious remains of hundreds of trees instantly martyred in the name of progress. You could climb atop these piles, after much clawing and clamoring, and see clear across into Clifton and beyond. The chips, still warm from the kill, emitted a strange odor, not unlike that of that cedar chest you got freshman year to keep your stuff in if you were living in the dorms. Anyway, Pat stood on these wood chips, gazing down upon the unpaved mud monster, flicked his cigarette in kind of exasperation, and proceeded to jump, dirt-clogged boots first, down the side of the pile. We jumped back in the Jeep, the Pogues blasting from the stereo, and blew the curb, leaving the virgin road alone for the rest of the summer.

Finally, it's January and the darn thing is done, more Oz-like now than anything else. The red brick-lined walls beckon you to take that first 10 mph curve a little faster than you should. The corporate desk pigs who designed the road are undoubtedly praying for a mild winter, considering it snowed 1/4 inch last weekend and boom! the gates mysteriously shut tight.

Your first trip up Montclair's newest wiggling wonder should be treasured and remembered. Consider yourself a pioneer of sorts, chartering unknown territory - the southeast passage, as it were. Gaze longingly at the puke green vegetable growth, placed carefully along the sides of the entrance way. Wave hello to the people in their condos on your right, as they cry uncontrollably in their morning coffee over their plummeting property values. Perhaps if you really want to make a lasting impression, you could cause the first traffic accident, just for kicks. Allow that guy tailgating you to get real close then, BLAMO, slam those brakes. Or better yet, just drive down the wrong way. Head-on collisions are always cause for headlines and besides, who can blame you? It's a new road for Christsakes! You didn't know.

In years to come, one can be assured that a great many grand and glorious people will navigate our new access road. By then, countless accidents, breakdowns, road kills and traffic citations will have occurred. Maybe by then, the asphalt God might even have a real name: President Reid Way or Dean Martin Avenue. Tony Susco Terrace? The possibilities are endless. But you will have the honor of saying you were the true pioneer. You'll come back as some grouchy and cynical alumnus and say, "I remember in my day, we used to shovel this road with our bare hands, wearing only socks, so we could get to class on time..." And we enjoyed it.

CAMPUS: The Community Speaks

Does a political candidate's private life affect your vote?

I do not feel that the choices a presidential candidate makes about his own personal affairs affect his judgement about matters concerning our country.

Rene e Lane
Senior, humanities

Yes, I would want to know what kind of person he is. The way he acts in his private life could reflect how he acts in office.

Jim Norris
Sophomore, psychology

No, it shouldn't matter, but it does help his opponent.

Adriane Courter
Junior, home economics/nutrition

It depends. If it is something about who he has sex with, then, no. But if he was an alcoholic or something like that, then it would.

Lewis "Raheem" Watson
Junior, accounting

Montclair State

DROP-IN CENTER TRAINING SESSION

Located between the Math/Science and Student Center

Application Deadline: February 7

(201) 893-5271

A service of your Student Government Association.

The Drop-In Center (an information, referral and peer counseling service) is staffed entirely by student volunteers. The caliber of the service offered to the student body cannot be maintained without you. If you want to help people, learn more about yourself, and do something constructive with your time for 12 hours a week, this could be the toughest non-paying job you have ever loved. While the training is rigorous and the commitment level high, the experience will be carried throughout your life.

The Drop-In Center is a good place to grow for students of all majors. We teach you the lost art of listening as you learn by doing.

In-service instruction will include: on-campus referrals, off-campus referrals, bus and rail routing, psychological referrals, health referrals, sexual health referrals and publicity.

Workshops

Suicide

Peter Maramaldi

Sexual Assault

Dr. Jill Greenbaum

Feedback

Ed Mills

Campus Safety

Sgt. Debra Newcombe

Substance Abuse

Judith Blumberg, M.S.W.

February is... National African American Heritage Month

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

- 2/3 12:00 noon Flag Raising and Proclamation (College Hall Circle - Flagpole)
12:30 p.m. African Food Tasting, "Origins of African American Heritage Month," Dr. Leslie Wilson
7:30 p.m. "The New School: What is On Your Mind," Coach John Blanton (Student Center Ballrooms)
"African American Entrepreneurship: Taking Control of Your Budget," Ellis Liddell (Student Center Ballrooms)
- 2/4 7:00 p.m. Movie: Five Heartbeats (Student Center Ballrooms)
- 2/10 7:00 p.m. "Recapturing the 60's: Implications for Future African and African American Liberation," Bobby Seal (Student Center Ballrooms)
- 2/11 1:00 p.m. "Developments in Research on the African American Family," Dr. Lorraine Mayfield-Brown (Kops Lounge-Russ Hall)
- 2/12 7:00 p.m. African American Greek Forum (Student Center Ballrooms)
- 2/13 12:00 noon "Elderly African Americans as Depicted in Novels 1950-1980," Dr. Mary Holley (Student Center Ballrooms)
- 2/15 9:00 p.m. Party-Party-Party 918 or Older only $3-MSU ID; $4-College ID; $5-ID (Student Center Ballrooms)
- 2/17 7:30 p.m. "Sexual Stereotypes in the African Diaspora," Dr. Gwendolyn Goldsby Grant (Student Center Ballrooms) African Marketplace
- 2/18 12:00 noon "African American Women in the 20th Century," Professor Paula Howe (Student Center Ballrooms)
- 2/23 3:00 p.m. "Role of the Church in Social Change," Rev. Archie Hargraves.
Montclair State Gospel Choir
Montclair State African Dance Troupe
(Student Center Ballrooms)
- 2/24 8:00 p.m. Play: Lessons in Love Beatrice Burton Kennedy (Student Center Ballrooms)
7:00 p.m. Movie: Jungle Fever (Student Center Ballrooms)
- 2/28 12:00 noon "African American Male and Female Relationships," Dr. Jawanza Kunjufu (Student Center Ballrooms) $1.00 donation to the African American Studies Scholarship Fund for Non Montclair State Guests.

Cheating: Taking the easy way out just got easier

by George Olschewski

College is not easy, as many struggling students know. Cramming until three in the morning, living for days at a time on black coffee and caffeine pills, and even drilling information sometimes doesn't help. Is there a solution? Michael Moore, a Rutgers-New Brunswick journalism student, has one.

Cheat.

With his self-published book, titled Cheating 101: The Benefits and Fundamentals of Earning the Easy "A," Moore offers students the chance to read what they may have been doing for years. "And they'll learn some new tricks at the same time."

"There's no other book in the world that offers this information," Moore says in the book, "This is the stuff you learn throughout your educational career, whether in elementary school or college, although it's never formally taught to you. Cheating 101 is that formal lesson, but it's more fun than formal."

Why would anyone want to create such a book? Higher education is supposed to make a student a better prepared person for the working world. General Education Requirements are designed to make students well-rounded. GER's, as Moore puts it, are "pure capitalistic cow manure. You must realize that college, above all, is big business. And instead of turning you loose after 40 credits in your major, they want to keep you and your checkbook (or your parents' checkbook— colleges don't discriminate when it comes to the green stuff, and I'm not talking about dining hall jello) around longer—four, five, or six, maybe even seven years, if you're stupid enough to stay that long."

Although some members of the academic community are not too thrilled about a cheating manual wading through college campuses, Moore remains undaunted. So far, he has gotten grave (rave?) reviews by the Rutgers faculty, and as far off as Ohio State, and the list is growing.

Is cheating a problem on college campuses? According to a 1991 study by Rutgers University, which covered 31 of the country's most prestigious universities, found that nearly 67 percent of all college students cheat at some time during their undergraduate years. Out of an approximate 12 million undergraduate students nationwide, that works out to be just over eight million students. To most faculty, yes, cheating is a problem. Also, while Moore says that Cheating 101 should be required reading for any student wanting to be one step ahead of the grade race, MSC Dean of Students Edward Martin believes that the book should be read by the faculty, especially junior faculty, to keep them aware of what's out there in terms of cheaters.

Moore, however, sees it differently. "I realize this book will raise a few eyebrows and perhaps even a few blood pressures among members of the academic community. That's tough. My book addresses what [professors] have traditionally ignored. Cheating is not a 'problem,' as you perceive it. It is reality. And cheating is a direct offspring of [their] 'efforts' as 'educators.'"

"Instead of teaching subjects to students, [they] teach at them," Moore said. "Cheating is a natural defense mechanism triggered by irrelevant courses and professors who look forward to their paycheck more than they do to teaching. My apologies to the true educators in America. You know who you are. I thank God for you."

"That statement is a cop-out," said Martin. He also disagrees on Moore's view of GER's. "At MSC, we believe that a broad curriculum is important to a student. While it may be difficult to see the importance of a GER course now, the totality of the experience won't be seen until later."

The book in itself is an entertaining read. Its six chapters (Growing Dissent, Removing the Blinders, Defining and Denying, A Lesson In Class, Term Paper News, and The Planned Getaway) contain quite a bit of information that is already common knowledge, but offers insight on new and different ways of cheating than the average student is used to. It also stirs the creative juices for readers to come up with more interesting ways of cheating, as well as new twists on old ideas.

Marcy Schirloff, a sophomore English major, enjoyed the book. "Some of it was funny, some of it you can relate to, and some was just a spoof on college." While there are one or two new techniques she learned, most of the other ideas she already knew, such as cheat or crib sheets, and hiding test answers in a skirt hem. She also liked the chapter on getting caught (The Planned Getaway). When confronted with the charge of cheating, most students will deny it. "Everyone knows not to admit you cheated," said Schirloff.

"I think the book's cool," said Natalee Vaccaro, a freshman Fine Arts major. "But you really can't use it much at MSC. A lot of the stuff in the book is made for large classes, and because of the lower student-to-teacher ratio here it makes it hard to use." She also admits that she already knew about 60 percent of the information in the book, but picked up an idea or two.

Have cheating manuals been around for awhile now? Don't Cliff's Notes fall into the same category? Theoretically, a student could walk into the College Bookstore and pick up a copy of Cliff's Notes about Moby Dick, and read that as opposed to the actual book. Not only will that student get the novel in a condensed form, but the student will get information about the characters, genre, setting, and a host of other areas. How does that compare with Moore's "Cliff's Notes" on college?

"I think that the book is different from Cliff's Notes," said Martin. "Cheating 101 covers activities that are a violation of most college's policies. Cliff's Notes have been accepted by the academic community as a guide, or an outline."

At best, Cheating 101 is an entertaining read, as well as a defense manual for professors who want a little more in their arsenal against cheaters. However, if a student gets caught cheating, he or she risks legal action, and possible expulsion from school.

Moore's book covers that, too.

The Montclarion

113 Student Center Annex
893-5169

The Montclarion is a Class One Organization of the SGA

EDITORIAL BOARD

John Tibbetts....Editor-in-Chief
Valerie Kalfrin.....Managing Editor
Kevin Colligan.....Editorial Page
R.A. Campos.....News
George Calle.....Arts
Karl Lomberg.....Assignments
Audrey Regan.....Campus Life
Karen Lee Stadford...Co-Campus Life
Beverly Masterson.....Photo
Alina Wilczynski.....Production
Michael Frasco.....Sports
Beth Courtney.....Asst. News
Al Iannazzone.....Asst. Sports
Jodi Schultz.....Asst. Arts

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

Robert Wintermute....Bus. Manager
Luisa Carrizo.....Ad. Manager
Jody Bardin.....Treasurer

TECHNICAL DEPARTMENT

Mike Bleeker.....Photographer
Kim Ford.....Photographer
Scott Erichsen.....Production
Sheryl Karosen.....Production
Chrissy Leppin.....Graphics Mgr.
John Troyan.....Graphics
Andrea Dimino.....Graphics
Mike Davis.....Cartoonist
Jason Alders.....Cartoonist
Elizabeth Lubin.....Typesetter
Michele Lovell.....Typesetter

FACULTY ADVISER

Prof. Ron Hollander

Circulation
Theta Xi

The Montclarion is published weekly, except during examination, summer and winter sessions. It is funded, in part, by funds received from the Student Government Association, Inc. of Montclair State. Advertising rates are available upon request, in Room 113 of the Student Center Annex, or by calling the business department at (201) 893-5237. The views expressed in the editorial pages, with the exception of the main editorial, do not necessarily reflect the opinion of The Montclarion.

MSC reserves the right...

The fourth amendment of the United States Constitution protects "the right of people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures."

The MSC Residence Life Appointment/Handbook states that "although residents have a right to personal privacy Residence Life professional staff as well as the Campus Police have the right to enter any student room, if an emergency occurs, without giving advance notice [italics added]." Furthermore, it states "you may be asked to reveal the contents of bags, boxes, etc. if the presence of alcohol is suspected," upon entering your residence hall.

Quite clearly, the MSC Residence Life Appointment/Handbook and the Constitution of the United States are at odds. To whom would you like to trust your civil liberties? I'll take my chances with the constitution.

During the early morning of Wednesday, Jan. 22, two Bohn Hall residents were arrested for the possession of marijuana. The assistant manager on duty at the time in Bohn Hall, Stacey Ballou, noticed the smell of marijuana emanating from a dorm room and called the campus police. They arrived shortly thereafter and, with the consent of its residents, searched the room. Marijuana and rolling papers were found and the residents were arrested.

Would the room have been searched if its occupants had not given the campus police permission? Almost certainly. The ambiguous wording of the policy set forth in the student handbook gives the college a large amount of leeway when it comes to room searches. Who decides what constitutes an emergency? Should this room have been searched under these specific circumstances even if its occupants had refused to give consent? I believe so. But what makes me nervous is that the "war on drugs" (and at MSC, the war on alcohol) seems to be in danger of degenerating into a war on civil rights and privacy.

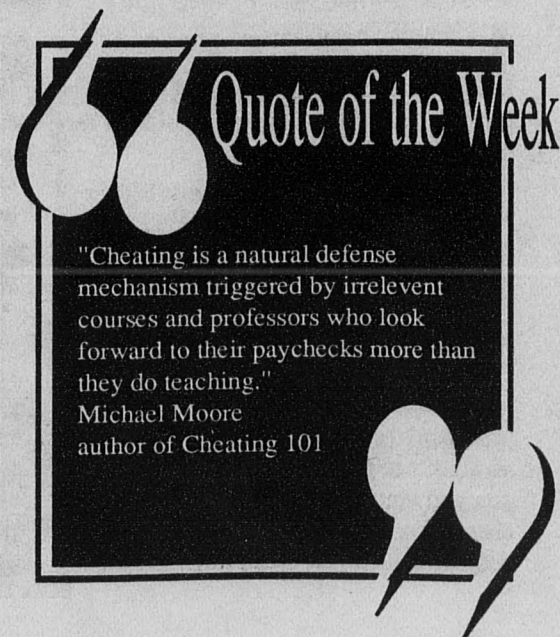

Perhaps the best example of a violation of privacy on campus is the Residence Life bag check policy. On certain nights, tables are set up and the bags of every person entering residence halls are checked. I guess being a college student automatically makes one suspected of smuggling alcohol; remember, Residence Life only reserves the "right" to check the belongings of persons suspected of having alcohol.

Most of us have nothing to hide, so these intrusive policies are merely mildly annoying and/or insulting. But once the administration is allowed to disregard some of our civil rights, none of them seem quite safe anymore.

The Montclarion strives for fairness and accuracy in its news coverage. We offer you an open forum to air your views. Your opinions are important to us. Drop off your letters-to-the editor and/or corrections in our office. Or mail to:

The Montclarion
c/o Editorial Page Editor
Student Center Annex Rm. 113
Montclair State College
Upper Montclair, NJ 07043

Be sure to include your name, major/title, and telephone number. Unsigned letters will not be used. Letters may be edited for brevity. Write us and share your views with the campus. We are here to serve you.

by Tim Lawton

Tim's
Thoughts

Stop the violence

America is the most affluent nation in the world and one of the most violent. Why so much violence and what does it do to us?

Although I haven't yet been physically harmed, this violence affects me. The threat of it causes anger, anxiety and even fear in me. The hateful rage I feel over this upsets me. Being a virtual pacifist, these feelings frighten me. How can I expect people with less inhibitions towards confrontation not to respond to violence with more violence?

Beyond the threat, imagine the impact real crime causes. How are the people who live in the high-crime areas affected? The violence they experience must lead to mistrust, fear and more violence.

This is why people don't make eye contact or say hello on the streets anymore. This is why we lock our doors at night and don't talk to our neighbors. This is why we pass the stranded motorist on the highway.

Maybe if people like us who hate violence and confrontation made a point to say hello and quell the fears of people around us things could change. If we were more inclined to be friendly and helpful it could make those with dubious intentions more conspicuous.

If vengeance wasn't sought as an answer to violence, maybe we could try to understand the pain and ignorance that cause people to lash out. We should try to forgive if we can, and demonstrate the error in people's ways, rather than seek punishment and reparation. We could try to use kindness to dry out the seeds of hate. Maybe understanding can help some of those who are violent to deal with what they are and what they have done, possibly opening the gates to a better world.

LETTER...

Environmental Theatre

Act 1; Scene 1

Apparently nothing is as simple as it could be. All I did was stop in at the convenience store in the Student Center to purchase a "sugar fix" to see me through registration when voila! There they were, several plastic holders for six-packs of soda in the trash basket.

How could I leave them there without raising a question or two? So;

ME: What happens to these plastic holders?

CASHIER: Not much. They are tossed out.

ME: Does anyone cut them up so that ducks, birds and fish do not get caught in them and end up strangling?

CASHIER: Nope.

ME: Why not?

CASHIER: We are too busy.

Please note that during this conversation there was not another customer in the shop and the cashier conducted this conversation while glancing through a magazine, but...

Who cares anyway?

Dr. Arlene King

Chair and Graduate Advisor

Human Development and Educational Leadership

LETTER...

There's no place like home

Okay, here I am again, my 6th semester moving into the dorms. As I approach Blanton Hall, I see a six foot glacier on the side of the building underneath a sagging ceiling. As I ice skate to the door to check-in, I wonder "What now?"

The tired RA says "Hi, welcome back. Oh, by the way, there's no heat or hot water." Oh, is that all? I see. Friday, I couldn't buy books in the College Store because a water-pipe broke (this caused a "fire hazard," but I guess it didn't affect the plethora of people in the ballrooms for some convention), but I can live in the arctic temperatures of the fourth floor in Blanton without bathing.

I don't know, but when something this serious occurs at home, whether it's Sunday, Monday or Christmas, there is a serviceman to fix it. The dorms are our home for eight months or so, and we never get consideration. Fire drills at 3 a.m., shootings or whatever the crisis, it seems it takes weeks to correct the problem.

For once, can't the dorm population have a peaceful semester? Less people live here each year due to these annoying problems. It's now Tuesday. I want to take a nice hotshower. I guess my choices are home or in another dorm.

I hope that things will improve, because many students are talking about commuting. I realize these things take time, but hey, we're paying for certain little privileges like water. Come on, splurge on the time and a half to pay the plumber and get the pipes fixed before 500 students move in. Check the rooms and make sure they have heat, two beds and two desks. Give us a peaceful semester, so we will want to come back

Robyn A. Merkel

Junior, Communication Sciences and Disorders

by Neal Dougherty

Record Irreverence

Hungry babies don't vote

There are a few little known facts that you, the reader, must be made aware of before we get into the substantive part of this soon-to-be elucidating essay. The first new fact that I require you, the reader, to be not necessarily comfortable with, but to be made aware of nonetheless, is the sad fact that this may indeed be the substantive portion of this aforesaid soon-to-be elucidating essay. The question that arises even from within my convoluted and entirely self-serving mind is; "What is he saying or, more appropriately, what is he trying to say?" One must wonder; if he truly has nothing to say why is he writing a column in The Montclarion, formerly widely esteemed before he started writing for it? Taking issue with myself, and answering my own pertinent and poignant question, I interject that you cannot read nothing. We all have, at one time or another, steadfastly maintained that we have done nothing, seen nothing or heard nothing. But not one of me, I cannot speak for all of us at least until we are firmly ensconced within the second paragraph, has read nothing. It is unequivocally impossible to read nothing. Hence, I must be saying something simply because you are reading it.

The something that I have to say, which coincidentally becomes a prerequisite for understanding this columnist and this column, and allow me to point out here if you do not understand this columnist and this column and if you do not read it I will not be wasting my time sucking up to an uninformed readership, is (can we have a little drum roll here?) quite personal. The fact that I have been belaboring for the last 284 words is that I find food stamps and welfare checks very attractive on a woman.

Once, not so simply or so long ago, I met this certain slime bunny. She was the personification of my dreams as well as my soon-to-be stepping stone to the stratosphere of the subculture within which I had ascertained membership. Anyhow, way or day now, I will get on with the story. I met Candy, convinced her to leave home, go on welfare and rent an apartment around the corner from my favorite bar so we could live happily ever after. I had reached the apex, the pinnacle of my subculture. Her husband, who had no sense of humor, could not appreciate this fact.

Yes, I realize that you cannot recapture the glories of youth. However, I did not anticipate that they would be legislated away. The Governor that I did not vote for because of his funny hair, Jim Florio, has initiated a welfare reform program that penalizes women who become pregnant while subsiding on welfare. This, in effect, penalizes the children of welfare families. If a woman opposed to abortion has two children, becomes pregnant, carries and delivers the child, she will not receive the perfunctory $64 increase in benefits. She then will be providing the sustentacular needs for three children on the previously received two-child stipend. Now suppose she has twins or even triplets.

Yes, there are those of you right-wing readers who believe it is unpatriotic to have children while on welfare. The president that I did not vote for because I think he has married his mother, George Bush, misquoted Thomas Jefferson and the Declaration of Independence while addressing a crowd of anti-abortion fanatics. Bush misconstrued the Jeffersonian term "created equal" to imply that the moment of conception endowed the fetus with life and its corresponding unalienable rights. This is completely contrary to Supreme Court rulings. He also indicated that "human beings must cherish that life, must hold it in awe, must preserve, protect, and defend it."

I wonder if providing $64 a-month constitutes preserving or protecting life? Not in New Jersey!

P.S. At the time that Thomas Jefferson penned the Declaration of Independence abortion was widely practiced and legal.

EXPERIMENTAL THEATRE SERIES

Department of Broadcasting, Speech,
Communication, Dance, & Theatre

presents...

A Dance-Theatre-Video Event

MOTION PICTURES:
Dances at an Exhibition

February 6, 7, and 8 at 8pm
in the Studio Theatre

Call the M&C Box Office for more information at (201) 893-5112.

Joshua Persichetti

EMOTIONAL DISTORTION

Sprague Library
Abstract Paintings
Reception 2-4pm
February 1, 1992

Colorful. Sexual. Unforgettable.

GET YOUR TAX REFUND AMOUNT IN A FLASH.

In as little as 3 days with a refund loan!

Special Campus Program!

Campus life can really cost you. So don't wait the 6 to 8 weeks it takes the IRS to mail your refund. When life's little emergencies require immediate cash or an unexpected opportunity knocks, get your money fast with FlashFundsSM. Even in as little as 3 days with a refund loan. And you pay nothing in advance. Just a low one-time fee when you get your money. For more information, stop by your campus FlashFunds location.

© 1991 BMCA

Montclair State College

Offered by  Beneficial Tax Masters
Tax Related Financial Services

 Beneficial National Bank
Member FDIC

FLASHFUNDS
REFUND SERVICESSM

TONY WANTS YOU!

To Be An S.G.A.

LEGISLATOR

EXPERIENCE THE BENEFITS:

- * LEADERSHIP
- * CAREER DEVELOPMENT
- * SCHOLARSHIP OPPORTUNITIES
- * MAKE FRIENDS

And much, much more!!

PETITIONS

AVAILABLE AT: S.G.A. Office, Rm. 103,
Student Center

FROM: January 21, 1992

DUE BY: February 7, 1992

So c'mon, be where it counts and
"SHAPE THE FUTURE"

Tony Susco, President
Student Government Association, Inc.

On Dec. 18, 1991, a first-time special aired on CBS, and it marked a welcome television debut of two long-time favorites of Bloom County, Opus and Bill the Cat in A Wish For Wings That Work. Opus, being the flightless waterfowl he is, asks St. Nick for wings so that he can fly. Bill "acks" and "thhpts" his way through the show, as fans of Bloom County and Outland are used to seeing. The show was fantastic. For those of you who missed the outcome, Opus saves a certain fat man in a red suit from being stranded in a lake (penguins swim rather well), and Santa tells Opus that his wings aren't useless. After all, they helped him get out of a lake, right? Opus goes to bed, not knowing quite what to think. Upon waking up Christmas morning, he is greeted by a flock of flighted waterfowl, all wearing Opus' trademark bowtie, who personally take him up, up and away as a tribute.

Any fan of Berkeley Breathed's work would have enjoyed A Wish For Wings That Work. That, however, is not the subject of this week's Update. Ever since its debut, The Simpsons has done remarkably well in its timeslot. Hell, there are Nintendo games starring Bart, a full-sized coin-op sitting in our MSC gameroom, and oh! The merchandising! Don't have a cash cow, man! To top it all off, The Simpsons haven't had serious competition since Cosby.

Until now.

What should happen if Berkeley Breathed should make Bloom County an animated prime time series that happened to air at another timeslot for a test? And if it turned out to be really good, aired it next to The Simpsons? Believe me, with all the Bloom County fans that need another fix that Outland doesn't seem to be giving, it would work! Just think of the following that Bloom County has. Sure, The Simpsons has a few fans here and there. A good chunk of the kids (emphasis on "kids") who watch it might not get the off-beat political humor of Breathed's Pulitzer Prize-winning creation. I admit, some of the stuff Breathed may come up with will go over the heads of the average 10 to 15-year-old who's only worried about Bart, Luke Perry and 90210. But think of the adults who would eat this stuff up. Come on, admit it. How many Bloom and Outland fans would like to see Deathtongue (a.k.a. Billy & the Boingers) in concert? Or Cutter John's U.S.S. Enterpoop? Or Oliver Wendell Jones make cat sweat hair tonic (which C. Everett Koop banned as a controlled substance)?

Bart is pretty much overrated. Sure, he still gets the ratings. That's why he's still on the air. But just consider what would happen if Bill the Cat was marketed instead of Bart Simpson coffee mugs, keychains, boxer shorts and contraceptive inserts? Maybe he'd be a better candidate for fraternity beer-bonging T-shirts. . . Unfortunately, if you need that Bloom County fix, go out to your local bookstore and buy the whole back catalog of books. If you'd like to see Bart eat Opus' shorts, man, then call up CBS and tell them. Until then, it looks like we're stuck with Outland, such as it is.

Mental Jewelry shines

by Joe Ventola

Live- Mental Jewelry-
Radioactive/MCA

Out of the depths of Erie, Pa., comes the band Live and their debut album. Produced by ex-Talking Head Jerry Harrison, this album is one of MCA's most hopeful prospects for 1992. In fact, on the heels of MCA's optimism, MTV has interestingly managed to fit the video for the first single, "Operation Spirit," into daily rotation.

The album itself is a lyrical exploration into mental preconceptions that we all carry with us, thus the title Mental Jewelry. Edward Kowalczyk pronounces this explorative journey with his somewhat ominous vocals over a backdrop of percussion and drums provided by Chad Gracey. Couple this with the bass of Patrick Dahlheimer and guitar of Chad Taylor and the resulting sound is one reminiscent of the pop/alternative sounds of the Talking Heads (I wonder why?).

The cuts on Mental Jewelry are somewhat of a mixture. The single "Operation Spirit" seems to catch the attention of most, but the strongest track on the album is a song called "Good Pain." It is raw and real and does more to attack the listener than all the other cuts put together. Standing in the shadows of this track are some other promising cuts, the most interesting of which is a Doors-sounding anti-racism song called "The Beauty of Gray." Also apparent are the forceful tracks "Waterboy" and "Pain Lies On the Riverside." Unfortunately, this album also provides some cuts that it could do without. "You are the World" is a failed attempt to move the listener with a primitive tribal-style rhythm, while "Mirror Song," the album's token ballad, falls short of its goal.

On a whole, the album is conceptually well-intentioned and will satisfy most. However, many of the tracks feel unnatural and inexperienced. The percussive and bass movements become boring and predictable. The vocals do a good job of painting imagery, yet they suffer from excessive studio effects. In fact, this album does a good job of hiding behind slick production and major label backing. This is definitely detrimental to a record that tries to get listeners to search through their inner souls for what is real and true. It would be nice to know how good Live is live.

"The album itself is a lyrical exploration into mental preconceptions."

Vidiot Report:

The Next Generation

by George Olschewski

If you're a fan of the old fashioned coin-operated video games, you probably remember the moldy oldies such as Asteroids, Defender and Space Invaders. As the cigarette ad goes, you've come a long way, baby. Look at the latest arcade shoot 'em ups out today. Comparing today's games with yesteryear's is like comparing a 1992 Corvette ZR-1 to a 1976 Pinto! Terminator 2, Time Traveller with its holographic imagery or the new Dragon's Lair make every other game reek of obsolescence.

Like the coin-op games of days gone by, the Super NES might do that to its country cousin, the NES. The shooter games out for the NES are vastly overshadowed by the superiority of the SNES. I know it sounds redundant, since I've said the same thing about most of the SNES games I've reviewed, but Gradius III by Konami and Super R-Type by Irem have to be the two best shoot 'em up games out on any system that I've played. The original coin-op R-Type is pretty good. Got a little boring, though. Kind of like Asteroids. I am not kidding when I say that the SNES version blows away everyone.

When I say blown away, believe me, I

Please turn to Vidiot page 19

UNDERGROUND

1. WISHDOKTA-"Evil Surrounds Us"
2. AVE MARIA-"No Sex Until Marriage"
3. HYPNOTIST-"HARDCORE EP" (RMX)
4. ALTERN 8-"FREQUENCY"
5. MESSIAH-"THERE IS NO LAW"
6. SPEEDY J-"SOMETHING FOR YOUR MIND"
7. PHENOMANIA-"Who is Elvis" (RMX)
8. PIUS-"BRING JESUS BACK"
9. RAIMUNDA NAVARRO-"JAMES BROWN HAS SEX"
10. DEE DANIE DEE-"ECSTASY ENERGY"

DANCE

1. LAURA EVEA-"This is the last time"
2. STRICTLY HYPE-"Take the Time"
3. DATURA-"No Style"
4. MASTERS AT WORK-"Cindy"
5. GEORGE ANTHONY-"I Love You"
6. ROBERT OWENS-"I'll Be Your Friend" (RMX)
7. ARTHUR BAKER-"I.O.U." (92 REMAKE)
8. BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE-"I GOT THE RHYTHM"
9. MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE-"THESE ARE MY PEOPLE"
10. KLF-"Justified and Ancient"

RAP

1. BLACKSHEEP-"You Got a Choice"
2. DEL THA FUNKIE HOMOSAPIENS-"Mistadobolina"
3. PM DAWN-"Paper Doll"
4. NAUGHTY BY NATURE-"Everything's Gonna Be Alright"
5. SALT-N-PEPA-"You Showed Me"

The Hand that Rocks the Cradle lulls viewers to sleep

by Jodi Schultz

After the death of her husband and miscarriage of her baby, Peyton Flanders' (Rebecca DeMornay) world of privilege and ease comes crashing down, forcing her to start a new life; forcing her puppet strings to break, thus creating a madwoman's soul. The life she insanely craves belongs to Claire Bartel (Annabella Sciorra), a fulfilled and busy, wife, mother and career woman. The perfect life searched for by almost every woman and sickly lusted for by one.

Posing as the ideal mother's helper — a theme that is overused in today's horror industry, but played out rather well — Peyton moves into Claire's home, and in no time, becomes a fixture in the Bartel house, and a trusted friend to the entire family, including husband Michael (Matt McCoy) and young daughter Emma (Madeline Zima), who are immediately infatuated with this ever-helpful and seemingly devoted God-send. Proving once again, the naivety and instability in today's society. How we can turn on someone who loves us once we get the attention we crave. Selfish little units aren't we!

Only Solomon (Ernie Hudson), the hired handyman, senses that Peyton isn't the pearl everyone thinks she is.

However, before Claire catches on to Peyton's hidden agenda and discovers the shocking truth about the stranger living in their midst, it may be too late to save her family; from the chilling and demented future Peyton has planned for them in Hollywood Pictures' new suspense thriller, The Hand That Rocks the Cradle.

I found the characters to be believable in every aspect. Especially Ernie Hudson whose handicap made his presence on the screen frightening when he would come in contact with Peyton. Even the slightest glance would send chills up my spine. Hudson provided Solomon with true sensitivity and intelligence which made his character probably the most believable in the movie. DeMornay gave the performance of her career as Peyton. She provided a sickly aura throughout the entire movie, and disbursed this insanity into all of us.

The major problem I had with the movie was its lack of true horror. The motives became silly after a while and the true fright came within the last 15 minutes of the movie. I admit the entire movie was disturbing for the mere fact that we do let people manipulate their way into our lives and when faced with the reality of their betrayal we disbelieve it. Despite a few interesting moments, the movie as a whole dragged on.

The Hand That Rocks the Cradle, directed by Curtis Hanson, is not highly recommended by this critic. If you want suspense rent an Alfred Hitchcock movie.

Annabella Sciorra with young Madeline Zima in The Hand that Rocks the Cradle

Restaurant

New Friday's. New Opportunities.

What happens when another Friday's comes to town? More food. More fun. And more opportunities.

We're opening a brand new T.G.I. Friday's in and full and part time opportunities offering complete training, great benefits, flexible scheduling, and excellent earning potential are now available. These openings exist in all areas of the restaurant.

WAYNE, NJ

If you like new things, apply in person 9:00am - 7:00pm Monday through Saturday (BEGINNING MONDAY FEBRUARY 3RD) to the Ramada Inn, 38 Two Bridges Road, Fairfield, NJ 07004-1594. (201) 812-3800. An equal opportunity employer.

EVERYONE LOOKS FORWARD TO FRIDAY'S

The Montclarion Hotline
693-5169

A.W.

Campus Paperback Bestsellers

1. Scientific Progress Goes "Boink" by Bill Watterson. (Andrews & McMeel, $7.95.) Latest Calvin & Hobbes cartoons.
2. Unnatural Selection by Gary Larson. (Andrews & McMeel, $7.95.) Collection of Far Side cartoons.
3. You Just Don't Understand by Deborah Tannen. (Ballantine, $10.00.) How men and women can understand each other better.
4. Possession by A. S. Byatt. (Vintage, $12.00.) The relationship between two Victorian poets as seen by two British academics.
5. Seven Habits of Highly Effective People by Steven R. Covey. (Fireside, $9.95.) Guide to personal fulfillment.
6. The Plains of Passage by Jean M. Auel. (Bantam, $6.99.) Trekking across Europe during the Ice Age.
7. Jurassic Park by Michael Crichton. (Ballantine, $5.99.) A theme park's cloned dinosaurs are creating a world crisis.
8. The Education of Little Tree by Forrest Carter. (Univ. of New Mexico, $10.95.) Growing up with the Cherokee way of life.
9. All I Really Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten by Robert Fulghum. (Ivy, $5.95.) Uncommon thoughts of common things.
10. Four Past Midnight by Stephen King. (Signet, $6.99.) Late-night hours filled with horror and terror.

A Commentary: JFK Controversy

by Audrey Regan

Oliver Stone has said JFK is a "counter myth" to the Warren Report. Yet, so many have criticized this movie as not being true, as being a misrepresentation of history, gross speculation and a confusing mix of fact and fiction. After all, they say, what gives Oliver Stone the right to make a movie like this that isn't true?

The American public relies on the cinema for its history lessons?

It seems that the controversy surrounding this three-hour movie is coming from the press, the same press who chose to ignore evidence contrary to the findings of the Warren Commission and the same press who have maintained for almost 30 years that Lee Harvey Oswald assassinated President John F. Kennedy all by himself. For years they've been able to dismiss critics like Mark Lane and Harold Weisberg as "conspiracy buffs," but it seems they've finally met their media match.

Stone's movie is based on New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison's attempt to indict Clay Shaw as a part of a huge coup d'etat including the CIA, the mafia, the Secret Service and even Lyndon Johnson, whom he considers "an accomplice after the fact." The movie shows Garrison's investigation and his mistakes, like his trampling of Shaw and his lack of solid proof.

Nevertheless, JFK still sparks controversy. According to the Feb. 3 issue of Newsweek, a film critic for The Washingtonian Magazine was silenced after giving the film a glowing review. Jack Limpert, editor of The Washingtonian, said, "JFK was a crackpot movie that put forth an extraordinarily false review of Washington."

Pat Dowell, the critic, quit, saying, "A critic's work should not be killed because of someone else's idea of political correctness." She was promptly replaced.

Stone may over-dramatize. The blame may be spread too liberally. But he does raise questions, one of which is, "When will the American public stop lazily accepting the truth from both the media and the cinema?"

Critics find it hard to connect a government-level plot to kill a President, with a government-level plot to release documents intact. Yet if all this movie does, besides attempting to open the "sealed files," is force us to get up and think for ourselves, then it's worth it. Who cares if Stone is wrong? If this is a democracy we should be able to find out.

Incidentally, last week the New York Times called for the release of those documents in a lead editorial because of this movie, which it has deplored. Obviously, JFK is hitting more than just the Vietnam debate of whether JFK was really going to wind down U.S. involvement or not.

The movie opens in Europe next week. It'll be interesting to see the reaction in a continent that has laughed at us about this for decades.

Oliver Stone's JFK: Single-bullet theory shot down

by Tom Boud

JFK is a consciousness-raising reel that plays on lurid flashback photography, powerful acting from Kevin Costner and a trail of investigation that would set just about any mind thinking. Although this Warner Brothers wonder offers no hard scientific proof of a conspiracy, it nonetheless gets the moviegoer's attention by focusing on the real life eccentricities of this Presidential putsch.

Kevin Costner is New Orleans District Attorney James Garrison. (In real life, James Garrison is known for trying unsuccessfully to connect David Ferrie, a pal of Lee Harvey Oswald, to the CIA plot to knock off Kennedy). After catching wind of the assassination, Garrison embarks upon an investigative crusade in order to get to the bottom of the matter. However, between government interference, a savage press and disappearing witnesses, it seems he would have an easier time getting to the bottom of the Marianas Trench.

Costner is fabulous as Jim Garrison. That's because Costner exudes a lot of emotion and conviction. Costner is a ball of fire with rage, enthusiasm and patriotism. I'll put it to you this way: you know he's a good actor when he keeps up his fiery emotion and conviction throughout this three-hour flick.

Concerning director Oliver Stone, you can pretty much say he tackled this daunting task from the best angle possible. With scientific proof lacking (and some people would attack him furiously for this), Stone primarily examines the validity of the "single bullet theory" (that Lee Harvey Oswald alone killed Kennedy and seriously wounded Texas Governor John Conally with one single bullet out of three fired, a theory officially accepted by the Warren Commission).

Stone raises many questions, such as how Oswald could have aimed, fired and recocked his bolt action rifle in less than six seconds -- something that FBI sharpshooters proved incapable to duplicate. He further questions how Oswald, a mediocre marksman, could have successfully hit a target 88 yards away, traveling 11 miles an hour, through the foliage of an obstructing tree, all within this six-second time frame.

Stone also points out that a lone assassin would ideally make his attempt while the motorcade was traveling along a straight-away for the best possible aim. However, the area in front of the Texas School Book Repository, where Oswald was located, consists of a curvy turnoff from Houston Street to Elm Street, which forced the motorcade to slow down to 11 mph and, according to what Stone portrays, is a perfect set-up for a "turkey shoot." There are many other issues Stone scrutinizes which is one good reason to go out and see JFK.

Although Nov. 22, 1963 is a date long in the past, it must be noted that the Kennedy issue is far from dead. In the Jan. 22 issue of the New York Times, a front page article reports that Congressman Louis Stokes (D-Ohio), former chairman of the House Select Committee on Assassinations, called for the release of 848 boxes of unpublished documents that, by order of Congress, are to be sealed until 2029.

Stokes is also pushing for the release of three FBI tapes consisting of conversations between undercover FBI agents and Carlos Marcello, a New Orleans mob figure, in which Marcello reportedly said he was involved in the assassination. When FBI Director William S. Sessions was asked by the New York Times about supporting the release of these documents, he was quoted as saying, "The law, of course, will be followed."

Lastly, it must be noted that according to Carl Sifakis' Encyclopedia of American Crime (Copyright 1982 by Facts on File, Inc., p. 546), a total of 18 material witnesses died in the three years following the assassination. Six were shot to death, two committed suicide, three died in car accidents, one was killed by a karate chop to the neck, one bled to death from a throat slashing, three suffered fatal heart attacks and two expired from other natural causes. The London Sunday Times hired an actuary to determine the mathematical probability of this happening spontaneously. The actuary concluded that odds were 100 quadrillion to one.

VIDIOT from page 17

mean it. The graphics are superb, the soundtrack is put together well -- the only thing you need is a "heads up" display to make you feel like you're actually in the cockpit. Maybe an idea for Super R-Type II? The game isn't all that difficult, so you might even lure your fumble-fingered and Nintendo-illiterate parents into a little family tournament. It does take some reflex action, and unless you have really good hand-eye coordination, don't be surprised if it takes you a while to solve.

Gradius III by Konami is in the same class, as well as a solid continuation of an ongoing concept. The graphics on this game are intense -- a heated competitor with Super R-Type. The same reflexes needed on R-Type are needed on Gradius, and the music is also great. This game has one -- I emphasize, ONE -- advantage over R-Type. You can engineer your M.A.X. starship to your liking by picking out your favorite weapons, shields and other assorted enhancements. This isn't a big plus, but in some other games, the same power-ups bop along with no variety. While custom ship is cool, remember, Capt. Kirk put up with the same thing for three seasons and six movies. It's a preference thing. If you like it where you know when and where a power-up is going to be, fine. If you like a little spice in your game, Gradius III delivers.

I rate all Nintendo releases on a scale of 1-5, and to this date, no SNES game has ever gotten the much-coveted "5" award from me. Let me tell you, these two games are deadlocked, but one problem prevents me from making these two the first recipients of the top notch. When there's too much action on the screen, the games both noticeably slow down. A lot. Once you blast the snot out of a few bad guys, the action goes back to normal, and all is well. It is this one lone factor that forces me to give both Gradius III and Super R-Type 4 3/4. Both Konami and Irem have winners here, but the slowdown is too much to be ignored. Next week: a game for all systems: Super Tennis (SNES), Faceball 2000 (Game Boy) and Flying Warriors (NES).

PRE-LAW PROGRAM

PHI ALPHA DELTA

Law Fraternity, International

"The only international organization evidencing interest in the pre-law student."

"Financial Aid for Law School"

A seminar in which students will become familiar with the financial aid application process, including:

- ✎ Scholarship opportunities
- ✎ Federal loans
- ✎ Financial aid form filing
- ✎ Debt management

Guest lecturer is Jack Cox, financial aid admissions counselor for the University of Dayton School of Law

Monday, February 3, 1992

Kopps Lounge, Russ Hall

5:30pm

Open to all students

Refreshments will be served

A Class IV organization of the SGA

Co-sponsored by the Legal Studies Department, Montclair State

ATTENTION STUDENTS:

All book returns for spring semester must be made by Saturday, February 1, 1992.

Thank you.

The College Store

BUY OR AMERICAN

Theta Xi Supports AMERICA!
Do You?

RUSH EVENTS

Wednesday	2/5	8pm	Casino Night, Cafe B, Student Center
Friday	2/7	4:30	Skiing, meet at the Blanton Lounge

For more information, call Michael T. Bleeker at (201) 893-5886.

Theta Xi is a Class IV organization of the SGA

AΦΩ

National Co-Ed
Service Fraternity

RUSH!

When: Tuesday, Feb. 11th 7:30 PM

Where: The Neuman Center

APO is a Class IV of the SGA

CLASSIFIEDS

classified ads

HELP WANTED

-Student who enjoys children to care for 3 1/2 year old in our Upper Montclair home, Mondays 12-5pm and Fridays 9am-4pm. Will consider sharing job between two students if you can only do one of the days. References required. Call 783-3908.

-Babysitter wanted for 3 yr. old boy, late aft., 3-4 days a week in Mont. area. Must drive. Call Maury Solomon. Days-(212) 753-8500 x309. After 6, (201) 509-2558.

-BABYSITTER wanted in Glen Rock for nine-month old while mother works in the home. 10-20 hours per week. Flexible schedule, daytime preferred. $5 per hour. Call 447-5457.

-Babysitter wanted for 10 mo. old girl. Monday (8:30 - 5:30), Wed. (2-6) and Friday (8:30-5:50). Must have car. No smokers. Excellent references required. Call Nancy or Neil at 736-7033 (9-5) or 7299 eves.

-Mother's helper wanted, Tuesday and Thursday from noon to 4pm. Two children, ages 2 1/2 and 9 1/2. Call 340-4819.

-Excellent PT Job/Child Care. 3:00 - 7:00pm. M-F. Some flexibility. Very Good pay. Care for well-behaved 4 yr old child in my Glen Ridge home. Must have car, good references and commitment to stay 6 months. Prefer Early Child. Ed. major. Call 748-7206 for interview.

-Babysitter wanted for 14 month old in my home in Montclair. If you love children and have your own transportation, call 746-2464. $5 per hour, weekdays.

-Part time Telemarketing, 9am-1pm and 4pm to 8pm. Average $8-$12 per hour. Great for students! Located in Fairfield. Call 227-8802.

-HELP WANTED: Youth services - Arts & Crafts Instructor, Recreational Counselors, Female lifeguard. Contact Robert at the Boys & Girls Club of Paterson at 279-3055.

-Babysitter with car needed Tuesday (12-5pm) and Friday (1-6pm), for two girls ages 7 & 3. Upper Montclair. Call Sharon at 783-9079.

-Housecleaning Help Wanted: One day per week for 2-3 hours. Close to campus. $7 per hour. References desirable. Phone 783-5954.

-Responsible person to look after and to become a friend to our 6-year old daughter. Drivers license required. References needed. Our home is in Upper Montclair, close to campus. Please call (201) 783-3675 after 6:00 pm.

-Earn $10.75/hr. Part-Time/flexible hours in sales. (Upper Montclair Area) Call: 201-408-5558.

-Help Wanted: Babysitter needed. Tuesdays and every other Friday and Saturday nights. Permanent. Must have own transportation. References required. 890-0329.

ATTENTION

-No time to type? Give us your term papers, reports, draft resumes, etc. Professionally edited, formatted & letter-quality printed by WORD PROS from $1.75/p. Ask about discount with MSC I.D. Call 744-9192, if no answer try 893-5688.

-Gold's Health Massage, located near by. 75% off with I.D. Call 997-0222.

-YOU'VE ONLY GOT ONE WEEK TO LIVE! DO IT RIGHT! Spring break in Jamaica, Bahamas, Cancun, Margarita from $369!! Hotel, Air, Transfers, Hot Parties! Call Karen 893-4781 or 1-800-426-7710.

-"Spring Break 92 - Cancun, MX - Prices from $299" Featuring the Oasis Cancun Hotel!!! Other lower priced hotels available. Guaranteed lowest prices on campus! For more information call Advance Travel at 800-755-7996. Reservation lines open from 9am-10pm daily.

-Student Paralegal Association. First meeting will be on Wednesday, February 5, 1992 at 5:00pm in the Student Center, Room 418. Election of officers, discussion of activities and plans and ideas will be discussed. Come and help to energize the organization!!

-WANTED: Sun & Party Hungry People!!! Spring Break: Cancun, Bahamas from $259.00 includes roundtrip air, 7 nights hotel, parties, free admission and more! Organize a small group. Earn a free trip. 1(800) BEACH IT.

-Need a French tutor? I can help -SKI - Intercollegiate Ski Weeks, $189. Includes: 5 Day Lift Ticket, 5 nights Lodging (Mountainside Condo), 5 days Intercollegiate activities (Drinking age -18), Sponsored by Labatts & Mt. Sutton, Canada (Just across the Vermont border). Group Leader Discounts. Springbreak 92. Call Ski Travel Unlimited at 1-800-999-SKI-9.

-"SEXY MEN WANTED" Great Bodies & Faces for Exotic Photography. Send name, photo, phone, stats: P.O. 1391 Maywood, NJ 07607.

-FUNDRAISER: We're looking for a top fraternity, sorority, or student organization that would like to earn $500-$1500 for a one week on-campus marketing project. Must be organized and hard working. Call Betsy at (800)592-2121 ext. 114 or Rick at ext 123.

-"Need money for your organization? Call the Alumni office and let me tell you how we can help you. To find out more about participating in Phonathon (and making money for your organization), please call Ext. 4141 and ask for Lisa Bogart.

SKI

Intercollegiate Ski Weeks
Mt. Sutton, Canada
(just across the Vermont border)

ONLY $189
Party in the snow!

Includes:

5 Day Lift Ticket
5 Nights Lodging
(Mountainside Condo)

5 Days Intercollegiate Activities
Sponsored by Labatt's & Mt. Sutton

Legal Age for Alcohol is 18

Group Leader Discounts

Springbreak, 1992

Call Ski Travel Unlimited

1-800-999-SKI-9

Earn $3000

Enthusiastic, aggressive, responsible student or organization to market winter skiing and spring break trips. Earn highest commissions, and outstanding travel benefits while gaining valuable sales and marketing experience! Great fund raiser for any organization! (All destinations and the best rates available.)

Call Scott at Campus Vacations
1 (800) 786-7377 ex. 312

RAISE $500...$1000...$1500

FOOL PROOF FUND RAISING

For your fraternity, sorority, team or other campus organization.
ABSOLUTELY NO INVESTMENT REQUIRED
CALL 1-800-950-8472, ext. 50

LSAT • GRE GMAT • MCAT

Small Classes.

Big Scores.

Guaranteed.

For more info on local classes, call:

800/876-3107

The Princeton Review
We Score More

MCAT

- 11 Sessions
- Taught by Dr. Blank
- NEW TEST FORMAT
- Interview class
- Extra help & advice
- 90% SUCCESS RATE

Call Dr. Blank
(201) 966-9054

DAT/OAT

Deadline for Classified Ads is Monday
3 PM

$7.00 per column inch (approximately 25-30 words)

presents the insane comedy of

A.K.A.

LENNY SCHULTZ

THE BIONIC CHICKEN

and

GARY VALENTINE

Wednesday ,
February 5
at 9pm
in the Rathskellar

As seen on Laugh-In, Late Night with David Letterman, and The Tonight Show with Johnny Carson

C.L.U.B. is a Class I organization of the FREE!

FREE!
FREE!

Intro to Mac will cover learning about the Macintosh Desktop and the Graphical Interface. You'll actually draw a picture and do some elementary word processing.

MS Works is "integrated" software with 4 modules: word processing, data base, spread sheet and communications. In WP, word processing, we will cover editing text, setting tabs and altering margins. In DB, we will set up a data base. In MM, Mail Merge, be prepared to integrate both WP and DB to produce multiple personalized copies of your document.

FEBRUARY
Monday	Tuesday	Wednes.	Thursday	Friday
3	4	5	Intro to Mac 10-12noon Chapin		7
		5	Intro to Mac 6:00p-8:00pm Richardson
		12		13	14
10	11	Works: WP 10:00-12Noon Richardson
	11	Intro to Mac 1:00-3pm Chapin
17	18	19		20	21
24	25	26		27	28
				Works: DB/MM 10:00-12Noon Richardson

FREE TRAINING ON THE MACINTOSH®

REGISTER FOR TRAINING AT EITHER
RICHARDSON HALL—ROOM #110 / 893-4194
CHAPIN HALL—SECOND FLOOR / 893-4472
FIRST COME, FIRST SERVE. LIMITED SPACE.

Authorized Dealer

Training Sponsored by:
The Computer Pros, Inc. Wayne Towne Center Wayne, N.J. 07470 (201) 256-7070

Apple, the Apple logo and Macintosh are registered trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc. MS Works is a registered trademark of Microsoft Corporation.

WANT TO BUY A MAC?

SPECIAL MONTCLAIR PRICING
ASK AT THE COLLEGE STORE
LOWER LEVEL OF THE STUDENT CENTER BLDG.

The new Macintosh LC
Color takes on a whole new value with the Macintosh LC® computer. Designed to easily expand, the LC includes an 020 Processor Direct Slot, which lets you extend the system's capabilities through expansion cards for communication, Apple IIe emulation, graphics and more.

personals

-CLOVE 306A: Thanks for a great time Tues. We would have been bored without you. Love Mary & Chris

-Michele: When are you taking me out for dinner?

-Bev. - Where are you? Bleek

-Frank (AXP) Draw Cup-Board and soot...Love Chrissy (Iota)

-Dear Brett(ZBT) I yearn for you 10 pounds of dangling fury!

-Theta Xi Fraternity: Pride, It's a Theta Xi thing. You wouldn't understand.

-George: I wonder how many potatoes you'll eat before you die. Me

-To a certain Greek organization member - You stuck your fat out of shape body into business that didn't concern you, now face the consequences.

-Ostrig, Pray for snow and wearing out your new mattress. Bleek

-108B: Let's hope our semester has less black clouds in it. Yeah right! Cri

-Bob, Delta Kappa Psi: Did ya find a man for me yet? Jo

-Kiefer, You're tha best. Toughguy

-Annie, We miss you! Love Jo and Nat

-Dawn, Thanks for introducing me to Ricky! You're a great cupid! Christi

-Ricky- sorry about the "Public affection", but I can't control myself!!! Love, Me

-TKE RUSH PARTY! Thursday 1-30-92, All interested men come get free pizza in the ratt at 6:30pm, then go to party!!!

-Crow, Thanx for stealing our beer. AIX

-Membership has it's priveleges - rush Delta Phi Epsilon

-Laura and Jeanne - so, what color are we going to wear next? Love B.

-Jeanne, We are two of a kind! I love you! B.

-Happy 45th Birthday Sigma Delta Phi!

-ATTENTION: Application are being taken for the Senate "He-Man-I—— Woman-Haters Club. The Bog

-Steve, Thanks for keeping me warm, tired, and always happy at the same time. Laura

-Delta Phi Epsilon, Absolut Sorority

-RUSH TKE!!!

-Sigma Delta Phi 45 years of tradition continues...

-Jill(AIX) Watch out for that sticker bush! We love ya! #115 and #116

-TKE rush, free pizza in ratt. Thursday 6:30, then party...

-Look out for the CROWS....Rush AXP.

-To AXP: Thanks for stealing our beer Saturday night...

-Dear James, Thanks for giving us a ride Fr. nite. Love Laura, Kim, Jess, Jean and Amy

-Steen - Thanks for letting "2-Ssips" sleep over last weekend.

-Mike P., Did I? Would you? Should you? Are we? Guess who??

-Ricky, What are you doing for the next 25 years? Christi

-Slick A - "I finally found the love of a life-time." Crunchy A

-TKE Worlds largest fraternity.

-Nancy, The peach makes me hungry and Bolleyball makes me tired! The Tournicate

-U.B.: If you don't know the fraternity you can't talk about it!

-To Lackawanna Sigmas: This is our last semester together release all inhibitions, let the cats out of the bag, Let's get close! The neighbors

-Ricky, Hi! How are you? Please have a seat. The doctor will be right with you. Will HE?! Steen

-Kristie, The ultimate bonding experience...Can't wait!!! Love Charlie

-Zig, I'm looking forward to all of our fun times together. Love ya, Charlie

-Laura and Kristie, This is it! And I'm dragging you out all semester. Love Becky

-TPhiBeta: We're looking forward to our mixer with you on Thurs. Love the sisters of AIX

-Lynda, Thank you for being a great big. Josephine

-To all the AKPsi brothers, I'm glad I pledged. It was worth it and I'm going to make the best of the following years in AKPsi. Thanks. Josephine

-Hey Zookeepers, 888, it's the ultimate zoo, you're beat. Sfach

-Larry Lar, 888, Can't say you didn't see it catching. Sfach

-hey, De Donde me burro? Mr. Valdez

-Go AIX Muggers on Friday night! Love ya! #115

-Oogie, Woah! Where did that come from??? The blonde

-Abbe, Well you missed part 3 last week...Stay tuned for parts 4,5, and so on...I hope! Love Becky

-Piglet, Wer'e so opposite. Love me

-Bob S., DKPsi, Just wanted to say thanks for everything. Love me

-Joanie (Sigma) It's almost time..I can't wait. Natalee

-Katrina(AIX) I'm too sexy for this personal! Ha! Ha! Love ??

-Don't forget: 636 Lackawana parties! Watch & wait for next message! Scooter Trash

-Zito, I never drank so much Seagrams in my life.

-To the brother who took my jacket at the Senate party: Thanks again. Maybe chivalry isn't dead yet.

-Keep dreaming...

-Leeroy (Freeman Hall 2nd floor) Someone on the 5th floor thinks you are cute...

-Christine (1210Bohn) Where are you? I miss your beautiful face. Don't worry I'll find you.

-Nelson (LSU) Who could ask for a better friend? Love MLE PS: Nelson, my roommate thinks you're cute.

-Bohn 13th floor, 6pack rules! AIX Love Mel

-To all my roommates on Valley Rd., It's going to be a great semester. Love Stacey (DPhiE)

-Steve, Get well soon because Senate is planning a ski trip off your nose. Love your brothers

-Rocky (Bohn 408) Make my dream come true and be mine. Secret Admirer, soon to be exposed

-Ruth Goenaga: Where are you? On the MIA list yet? Love Sheila

-Rush AIX - simply the best!!

-Rush DPhiE Spring 19921, the absolut sorority.

-to two greek members: you should have finished the job! You talked the talk, now it's time to walk the walk! You will indeed be living your worst nightmare.

-To the 6pack (AIX) Myrtle Beach will be AWESOME! Love #116

-Christian: Happy Birthday!! Love, Val and Bev

Four Walls/ Quarterly
The Arts and Literary Magazine
113A Student Center Annex
893-4410

SUBMISSION DEADLINE
February 26

Quarterly is a Class I of the SGA

Calvin and Hobbes

by Bill Watterson

Shoe

by Jeff MacNelly

Life in the Bowl

by Christian Rogers

Mother Goose and Grimm

by Mike Peters

The Crossword Puzzle

© Edward Julius Collegiate CW8710

ACROSS

- 1 — system
- 6 Disagree with, in law
- 11 Baseball hall-of-famer, — Baker
- 13 Reduces in rank
- 15 Show excessive devotion
- 16 Learned
- 17 Govern
- 18 European country (abbr.)
- 20 Wallach and Whitney
- 21 Bed support
- 22 Lowest point
- 24 Fine earth
- 25 Fedora
- 26 Large grasshopper
- 28 Zuider —
- 29 Put on a new book cover
- 31 What Edmund Hillary conquered
- 33 No —, ands, or buts
- 34 Here: Fr.
- 35 Gave a conceited smile
- 39 — Delta
- 42 Faux —
- 43 In — (behind in payment)
- 45 Dumbbell
- 47 Lubricates
- 49 Neighbor of Turkey
- 50 — one's time
- 51 Turkish chamber
- 52 Snake-like fish
- 53 Sidekick (abbr.)
- 54 Newer film versions
- 57 One TV show
- 60 Most sarcastic
- 61 Slanders
- 62 Aroma
- 63 Physician of old

DOWN

- 1 Constructed with standardized units
- 2 Try to equal or surpass
- 3 Issue a new lease
- 4 Retirement account
- 5 Famous king
- 6 — Fuehrer
- 7 Flightless bird
- 8 Statistical measures
- 9 Put into service
- 10 Puts in a new floor
- 11 Stern
- 12 Nullify
- 13 Ridicule
- 14 Musical group
- 19 Miss Williams
- 22 Former world leader, and family
- 23 Las Vegas hotel
- 26 Novelist Franz —
- 27 Knocks down by punching
- 30 Abbreviation before a date
- 32 Dolores Del —
- 35 Animal tracks
- 36 Certain race horses
- 37 Muslim
- 38 Most arid
- 39 Dispatched
- 40 Offensive, as an odor
- 41 — Purchase
- 44 Before
- 46 Celebrations
- 48 Tree product
- 50 Fundamental
- 55 Famous doll
- 56 Superlative suffix
- 58 Slangy throw
- 59 "— nightingale..."

Look for answers to this week's puzzler in next week's Montclarion.

EXPERIMENTAL THEATRE SERIES

Department of Broadcasting, Speech,
Communication, Dance, & Theatre

presents...

A Dance-Theatre-Video Event

MOTION PICTURES: Dances at an Exhibition

February 6, 7, and 8 at 8pm
in the Studio Theatre

Call the M&C Box Office for more information at (201) 893-5112.

This year:

Passover is April 18-25.
If you are interested in Kosher meals for Passover, please contact
Jody at x4678 or the JSU office at x5280 by
Tuesday, February 4.

JSU is a Class IV Organization of the SGA

LIFE

OR

1992-93 FINANCIAL AID APPLICATIONS (NJFAF) ARE AVAILABLE

FINANCIAL AID OFFICE COLLEGE HALL, C-321

STUDENT CENTER INFO DESK

FILING DEADLINE: MARCH 1, 1992

Reminders:

- 1-) Stafford Loan applications must be submitted by May 1, 1992 in order to be processed prior to Fall'92 billing.
 - 2-) Stafford loan applications received after May 1, 1992 will not be considered for awards or deferments in time for Fall'92 billing.
 - 3-) No deferments will be given for PLUS, SLS Loan applications.
- You must file these applications by May 1, 1992 and have the loan proceeds to meet your fall term bill.

SPORTS

King's Court

by Al Iannazzone

Super Bowl was Super Bore

The preparation was unnecessary. The hype was over-exaggerated. And the game was as exciting as a Friday night with Grandma.

The Buffalo Bills were outmatched, outclassed and outcoached by the Washington Redskins in one of the most disappointing Super Bowls ever.

For years, the Super Bowl was a classic game which pitted two well-deserving, evenly-matched teams in a heated battle for football's world championship. This was true in the 70's when we saw the classic Steeler-Cowboy confrontations. Unfortunately, in the last decade, only three games have been decided by less than 10 points.

The game is no longer one for the fans to enjoy. It has become an excuse to drink. The fans enjoy what they can't remember about the game.

Every year from Jan. 1 on, the question everyone asks is, "Where are you going for the Super Bowl?" Few people care about the game; they're just looking for a warm place to consume alcohol. Most people can't remember anything that happened in Super Bowl XXIV when the 49ers crushed the Broncos 55-10. I bet most people can't remember anything from last year as well, except Scott Norwood's last-second missed field goal.

When I was growing up, the Super Bowl was a sacred institution which brought family and friends together for four hours of excitement. For the past several years, it has become eight hours of pure disappointment.

At the party I attended, by the start of the third quarter with the 'Skins up 17-0, I was the only one awake. Everyone else ate, drank and passed out. In a capsule, this shows what the Super Bowl has become-- a Super Bore!

A game that used to be for the fans has become an unbelievable profit-making machine for the respective Super Bowl city, the advertisers and, of course, the beer companies.

Hey! Remember us! There would not have been 26 damn Super Bowls if it weren't for the fans. We shell out all the cash and then we get bored to death!

Neither super

Nor sober

I think it's time for a change. Let's get back to the basics. Forget the egos. Forget the money and the hype. Forget the Bud Bowl and all the beer. Just play hard, solid football like the game in 1979.

If this could happen, the players, the companies and, more importantly, the fans would be better off. If this would happen, we would be able to call it Super Sunday once again.

Calling the Shots

I knew the game was going to be bad when Bills kicker Brad Daluiso "misunderstood the referee's signal" on the opening kickoff.

What about Thurman Thomas? The Bills' running back couldn't find his helmet so he had to sit out the first two plays. This typified the Bills pathetic showing Sunday night.

All week long Thomas was upset about the statement that QB Jim Kelly was the "Michael Jordan" of the Bills. Thomas bitched that the team had two Jordans. Does Thomas realize he played like a Jordan? Jordan Knight of the New Kids on the Block.

Kelly was no better, as he played like he belonged in a bakery. Did I hear someone say turnover? Yeah, Jim. Seven.

Now everyone knows who Mark Rypien is. The game's MVP is a great QB who "Rypped" a bunch of Counterfeit Bills apart. I'm sorry. I know that was bad.

I can't believe the average 30-second commercial cost $850,000 during this year's contest. I'm in the wrong business.

I turned the game off. Who won the Bud Bowl?

How good did Cindy Crawford look? I am definitely in the wrong business.

Hear ye!! Hear ye!!

The Sports King requests that you mail in any opinions on anything in sports to:

The Montclarion
c/o Sports Department
Student Center Annex, Rm. 113
Montclair State College
Upper Montclair, NJ 07043

or drop them off in The Montclarion office. Letters, 100 words or less, must be typewritten. Please include your name, major and telephone number. Letters may be edited for brevity. Deadline for letters will be Monday at 12:00 p.m..

Swim teams on the rise

by Jim Klosssek

The cliché "Only time will tell" wears well on the 1991-92 Red Hawk swim teams. Before the season started, both the men's and women's rosters were full of question marks, but as the season draws to a close, those doubts have been replaced with solutions. The men especially have proven their mettle by defeating many of the teams that have outclassed them in years past.

Last Saturday both swim teams journeyed to Pennsylvania for a meet against Ursinus. The men continued to impress by coming away with a 102-85 victory, while the women were beaten by a 107-76 score.

After a huge loss to Glassboro the previous Saturday (140-89), the men's team regrouped to down crosstown rival William Paterson at home Thursday night before embarking on the two-hour bus ride to Ursinus.

"We're very pleased with the effort our men have given us this year," said Head Coach Brian McLaughlin. "Everyone from the Mitzaks (Andrew and John) to Francisco Kraft have done everything we've asked of them and more. When you add Warren Towns and Scott Fried to that list, I'd say we have quite a bit to look forward to."

With the departure of graduating seniors Duke Harding and Matt Gorski, the remaining members of the team and any newcomers in '92 will be pressed to match this season's success. "Although both Duke and Matt will definitely be missed, we still have the nucleus of a very good (men's) team," said an optimistic McLaughlin.

On the other hand, the women haven't fared as well. The loss to Ursinus last Saturday was the team's third straight since returning from winter break and proves it has a way to go before reaching the level at which the men currently find themselves.

"While it's true our women are not progressing as quickly as the men's program, they are not pushovers by any means," explained McLaughlin. "On the contrary, with individuals like Marianna and Christina Krivak, Sara Dobol and others, I believe next year's team is going to be an exciting one to watch." Only time will tell.

Hawk Notes.... Prior to the dual losses to Glassboro, the men's team swept both Kutztown (Dec. 11) and Stony Brook (Jan. 13) while the Red Hawks downed Kean in a single meet on Jan. 15. The men's win over Stony Brook was decided by Duke Harding on the last lap of the final relay event.... Everyone connected with the Red Hawk swimming program would like to extend their condolences to the families of the Notre Dame swimmers who were killed in the recent bus accident, which also left other members of the team severely injured... The home meet against William Paterson was the last one for famed women's diver Carrie Spender as it also was for Harding and Gorski on the men's side.

PAINFUL

Ricardo Trilla

That's got to hurt! An MSC wrestler inflicts pain on his Salisbury opponent. The Red Hawks won the event, 41-6.

LET'S ROCK THE HOUSE!

Men's and Women's Basketball Excitement
HERE AT PANZER GYM
A Double-Header of Fun

Tuesday, February 4, 1992
Montclair State Red Hawks vs.

Ramapo Road Runners
Women's Game at 5:30 pm
Men's Game at 8:00 pm
Live TV coverage by NJN!

The Dept. of Athletics poses a "FAN CHALLENGE" for this event. Frats, sororities and SGA organizations are challenged to be the best fans.

WIN $100 for your group.

Groups will be judged on attendance, appearance, and cheering abilities. Register in advance. Call 893-5236.

Swim teams look to improve.....27

Super Bowl was Super Bore.....27

Women's hoops upset Glassboro State 64-59

Hand Profs second and only loss of season in thrilling fashion

by Jim Klosssek and Michael Frasco

The MSC women's basketball team pulled off a dramatic 64-59 victory over Glassboro State College Tuesday night at Glassboro.

The Red Hawks, down by 10 with just five minutes left, outscored the Profs 18-3 the rest of the way to upset a GSC team which had won 13 in a row.

MSC trailed by 15 points with 14 minutes remaining, yet managed to chip away the lead thanks to the strong play of Jeanine Mullahy, Maritza Martinez and Kim Barnes. Mullahy led the Red Hawks with a career-high 18 points. It was the junior guard's four free throws in the final :17 which sealed the victory for MSC, whose record now stands at 11-6 (8-3 NJAC).

However, Martinez proved to be a key player down the stretch as she made two steals and turned them into four points to edge MSC closer to the Profs as crunch time neared.

Martinez' floor leadership was contagious on a night when MSC truly put forth a total team effort to defeat GSC 14-2 (9-2) for the second time this season. Back in early December the Red Hawks edged GSC 75-72 at Panzer Gym. After that contest, the Profs put together a 13-game winning streak until MSC came into town Tuesday night and did a number on them once again.

Before MSC's biggest win of the season against GSC, probably its worst defeat occurred the previous Tuesday night against Rutgers-Newark when the Red Hawks blew a 12-point lead with 3:58 to go, and eventually lost 63-51.

MSC bounced right back, though, with a 62-51 victory against Trenton State Friday night as Kim Barnes led the way with 18 points, while Shannon Shaffer and Judy Stair hit for 14 apiece for the Hawks.

"It was a very big win for us," said Assistant Coach Carolyn Savio. "The team was disappointed after the loss (to Rutgers), and I think that gave us the incentive to come out and play the type of game that we were capable of."

Barnes especially has been a big part of MSC's success this season. She averaged only 5.3 points per game coming off the bench last year, but so far this season the 5'7" guard from Mastic Beach, N.Y. has come into her own and is currently averaging 14.7 ppg.

"Kim has learned to be more selective with her shots," said Savio. "She's beginning to take the higher percentage shots which proves she's maturing as a player."

Ricardo Trilla

Two is not enough! MSC's Judy Stair (14) goes up for another duece in a 49-41 loss to Rutgers-Newark earlier this week.

Mullins' heroics boost MSC past TSC 54-50

MSC forward scores 26 points in OT victory

by Kelth A. Idec

The Red Hawks, who have suffered through a tough season, pulled off a huge upset Saturday, defeating Trenton State 54-50 in overtime at Panzer Gym. Junior forward Lee Mullins led the way for the Red Hawks, scoring 26 points. The victory broke TSC's domination of 12 straight victories against MSC over the past six seasons.

MSC trailed the contest 46-37, with 6:05 left in regulation. Soon after, the Red Hawks picked up the intensity. Consequently, MSC stepped up its defensive effort, as TSC managed to get off one shot in the last 6:05 and also was forced to turn the ball over three times during that span. MSC went on a 9-0 run that was capped off by Mullins' two free-throws with :01 remaining to send the game into overtime.

In overtime, MSC outscored TSC, 8-4. Mullins accounted for six of the Red Hawks' eight points in the extra session.

Other players who contributed were sophomore guard Efrain Renee, who added eight points on the night, and junior guard Garland Gillette, who chipped in six points and seven rebounds. Forward Kevin Wise led the way for the Lions with 12 points and 12 rebounds.

The upset marked the first time since 1989 that MSC has won two games in a row. Earlier in the week, MSC defeated Rutgers-Newark, 74-64 in Upper Montclair. Mullins again led the way for the Red Hawks with the first of his two 26-point efforts of the week.

The Red Hawks were 1-4 over the winter break. The lone victory came on Jan. 11. MSC defeated Cortland State (N.Y.) 82-76. Mullins dropped in 30 points and junior forward Pete Ristevski grabbed 13 rebounds.

Hawk Notes....MSC's record stands at 4-11 (3-7 NJAC)...Mullins leads the squad in scoring (21.6 ppg) and minutes played (55.1, 36.7 mpg)...Renee leads in assists (5.1 apg)...Ristevski leads in rebounding (7.9 rpg)...The Red Hawks have not won three games in a row since the '86-'87 season...Two games are scheduled this week and both are at Panzer Gym. On Saturday, Feb. 1, MSC does battle with a surprising Rutgers-Camden team. The visitors come into the game with a 12-2 (9-1 NJAC) record. MSC's game against Ramapo College on Tuesday, Feb. 4, will be telecast live on NJN at 8:00 p.m....The Red Hawks' four victories so far, match last year's output for the entire season.

Ricardo Trilla

Getting up and out of traffic! Surrounded by Rutgers-Newark defenders, MSC's Garland Gillette skiles as he scores a tough basket. The Red Hawks won the game, 74-64.